CORE Community Services Stands with Syria and Turkey Following Earthquake Tragedy

CORE Community Services expresses its deep condolences to the families and communities affected by the devastating earthquake that struck Syria and Turkey. Our thoughts are with those affected by this tragedy, and we stand in solidarity with the people of both countries as they work to recover from the disaster. We understand that many in Australia's Syrian and Turkish communities are fearful for their loved ones and are already donating to charities in the area.

As a leading provider of community services, CORE Community Services recognises the importance of supporting communities in times of need. We are committed to offering our assistance to our community, clients and their families. Please reach out to us by phone (02) 9727 0477, by email info@corecs.org.au or on our website <https://corecs.org.au>

CORE Community Services has a long-standing commitment to corporate social responsibility, and we believe it is our duty to support communities in times of crisis. We are closely monitoring the situation in Syria and Turkey, and we will continue to assess the best ways in which we can assist those in need.

We urge the international community to come together to support the people of Syria and Turkey in their time of need. Whether through direct donations, volunteer efforts, or advocacy, we must do all we can to support those affected by this tragedy.
